

Certain Cure For Croup.

Mrs. Rose Middleton, of Greenville, Ill., has had experience in the treatment of this disease. She says, "When my children were small my son had croup frequently. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always broke up these attacks immediately, and I was never without it in the house. I have taken it myself for coughs and colds with good results."

"When my son Ellis was sick with a cold last winter I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It helped him at once and quickly broke up his cold," writes Mrs. P. O. Stuchell, Homer City, Pa. This remedy has been in use for many years. Its good qualities have been fully proven by many thousands of people. It is pleasant and safe to take.

Mrs. Anna E. Moorman returned Saturday to her home in Kansas City after a visit here with her sister, Miss Mary Summerville.

An Old Man's Stomach.

As we grow older and less active, less and less food is required to meet the demands of our bodies. If too much is habitually taken, the stomach will rebel. When a man reaches the advanced age of 85 or 90, you will find that he is a light eater. Be as careful as you will, however, you will occasionally eat more than you should and will feel the need of Chamberlain's Tablets to correct the disorder. These tablets do not contain pepsin, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.

Mrs. A. B. Spaulding, who has been a guest of her sister, Mrs. R. L. Britt, left Saturday for a visit in Hiawatha, Kansas, before returning to her home in St. Louis.

For a Weak Stomach.

As a general rule all you need to do is to adopt a diet to your age and occupation and to keep your bowels regular. When you feel that you have eaten too much and when constipated, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets.

NEW DRAFT BY FEBRUARY 15

President Wilson Sets Forth Regulation of Second Call—Nine Millions to Answer Questions.

Washington, Nov. 12.—President Wilson formally put the new machinery for carrying out the selective draft bill into operation tonight with the publication of the foreword he has written to the regulations under which the second call will be made. The regulations themselves and the questionnaires, which more than 9,000,000 registrants will be required to fill out, are being forwarded to local boards, but have not yet been made public.

War Department officials estimate that the whole process can be completed within sixty days. This means that no second call will be made upon the draft forces before the middle of next February, as the period of classification will not begin until December 15.

The President describes the new plan of dividing all registered men not already mobilized into five classes, subject to military service by classes, as being intended to produce "a more perfect organization of our man power."

"The selective principle must be carried to its logical conclusions," the President said, and he added that there must be made a complete inventory of the qualifications of each registrant in order to determine "the place in the military, industrial or agricultural ranks of the nation in which his experience and training can best be made to serve the common good."

Officers at Eldorado Prepared to Meet Trouble Caused by I. W. W. Agitators.

Eldorado, Kan., Nov. 14.—There are no new developments in the I. W. W. situation here. All big oil companies have doubled their guards and the sheriff and local officers are prepared to meet any trouble which may arise.

It has been established that I. W. W. agitators are working in the field and oil men say that if the ringleaders are located they will be dealt with summarily.

A light rain fell here this morning, the first for many weeks. The dry weather has caused much apprehension, as fire might easily have spread and done much damage. Several small fires in the fields have been checked without great loss.

WE CAN ONLY THROUGH VICTORY

President Wilson's Address at Buffalo Labor Convention Is a Message to the World.

Buffalo, Nov. 13.—Declaring that peace could now only be won by war, and openly inviting Austria to sue for peace, President Wilson made a personal and eloquent appeal here today for the full support of organized labor or the government in the conduct of the war. Speaking before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor he declared the war could not be won unless all factions sink their differences and unite in a common cause.

The President paid warm tribute to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and virtually called upon the federation to give him united support. He denounced selfishness and critics and appealed for cooperation.

Discussing Germany, the President declared flatly that Germany had started the war and that he was willing to await the verdict of history on that statement.

The President alluded to the present war as "the last decisive issue between the old power and the new principle of freedom."

"The President, while devoting his address to problems for the people of the United States, laid emphasis upon the broader phases of the world conflict in a way that seemed to indicate that his speech was possibly intended as a message to the people of Germany, of Austria and of Russia, as well as of the United States. He declared his belief that were it not for the pan-Germans, the spirit of freedom would find as fine a welcome in the hearts of Germans as it can find in any other heart."

"Power," he said, "cannot be used with concentrated force against free peoples; if it is to be used by free people."

Speaking probably of Austria, Mr. Wilson referred to the intimations of anxiety for peace that had come "from one of the central powers," and declared that it meant "that the people in that central power know that if the war ends as it stands, they will, in effect, themselves, be vassals of Germany, notwithstanding that they do not wish in their pride and proper spirit of nationality to be absorbed and dominated."

Of Russia he said that he was amazed that some groups in that country could suppose that "any reform plans in the interest of the people can live in the presence of a Germany, powerful enough to undermine or overthrow them by intrigue or force."

"Fatuously as the dreamers of Russia," were those persons in this country, he declared emphatically, who suppose that "the free industry and enterprise of the world power can continue if the Pan-German plan is achieved, and the German power fastened upon the world."

The President directly asserted that Germany has started the war and said he would leave confirmation of this statement to the verdict of history. He referred to Germany's growth to a "place in the sun" and asked why she was not satisfied when she gained that position. In answer he described the German government's methods of controlling the competition of its industries, and asserted that all the while there was lying behind its thought, in its dreams for the future, a political control which would enable it in the long run to dominate the labor and the industry of the world.

SLAV SITUATION STILL IN MUDDLE

From Meager Reports Received the Rebels Seem to be in Complete Control.

CLAIM DEFEAT OF KERENSKY

Wireless Dispatch Received in London Says Premier Lost Battle at Tsarskoe-Selo.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Out of the maze of contradictory statements on the Russian situation the salient fact seems to stand out that the Bolshevik forces still are in control of Petrograd.

A wireless dispatch received in London announces the complete defeat of the followers of Kerensky and General Korniloff Monday in fighting near Tsarskoe-Selo, while in Petrograd the recalcitrants are declared to be maintaining the upper hand against the military cadets and other adherents of the Kerensky regime.

Dispatches from Denmark assert that advices received there are to the effect that the Bolshevik soldiers and sailors in Petrograd are committing all kinds of excesses and that the population is terror stricken.

London, Nov. 14.—The complete defeat of Premier Kerensky and General Korniloff is announced in a Russian communication received here by wireless.

Kerensky's Capture Ordered.

"After bitter fighting near Tsarskoe-Selo, the revolutionary army completely defeated the counter-revolutionary forces of Kerensky and Korniloff yesterday," says the Moscow agent. "The soldiers' and workers' deputies have ordered that all measures necessary be taken for the capture of Kerensky, who is retreating before our offensive."

Another communication issued today says:

"The attempt of Kerensky to move counter-revolutionary forces against the capital of the revolution has received a decisive repulse."

"Kerensky is retreating and we are attacking the offensive. The soldiers, sailors and workers of Petrograd now how to impose, and will impose with arms in their hands their will and the power of the democracy."

"The bourgeoisie has endeavored to separate the army from the revolution. Kerensky has attempted to break it by the violence of Cossack domination. Both efforts have failed. The workers and peasants' great conception of the supremacy of the democracy has united the ranks of the army and has repulsed its will."

Battle Near Petrograd.

Stockholm, Nov. 13.—A bloody encounter has taken place near Gatchina between soldiers from the front, headed by Plesner, Kozlov, and Bolshevik forces from Petrograd, according to advices which have been received from the Nelson Morris, the American minister, from reliable sources. The result of the battle was not reported to Mr. Morris.

It is reported M. Kerensky is still making proclamations as premier and that strong forces are rallying against the Bolsheviks. General Kaledine, former commander of the Cossacks, has announced his refusal to recognize the "infelices" and Maxim Gorky is issuing ally bulletins against them. The committee of public safety, which was appointed by the mayor and city duma, has secured the support of the Menchikov Social Revolutionists and the bourgeois parties generally, and also receiving support from the railway employees' union and the central railway committee.

Sailors Back to Kerensky?

The committee of public safety sent an embassy to treat with the sailors of the fleet. He has reported the sailors already are showing dissatisfaction with Lenin. The reports also say the committee has issued an appeal to the city population and to the city militia to abstain from violence against the Bolsheviks, who have the support of the sailors and fifty thousand soldiers of the Petrograd garrison, and to await a peaceful solution of the situation.

All the ministers of the provisional government who were arrested at the commencement of the revolt have been released except Foreign Minister Fereischenko and one other.

First Centennial of University.

Missouri's first centennial observance will be at the State University in Columbia, January 8, 1818, when the annual meeting of the State Historical Society will be held. Missouri people presented their first petition for statehood to Congress January 8, 1818, the petition having been signed just 100 years ago this fall—in October, 1817. At the January meeting, a pioneer, 100-year-old, exhibit will be shown in the University Library, where the historical society has its quarters, and a pioneer "6 o'clock dinner" as it was called by our forefathers, not a "banquet," will be served at the new Daniel Boone Tavern.

The Columbia observance will be the first of a series of Missouri centennials extending over four years, until the anniversary of President Monroe's proclamation of August 10, 1821, admitting Missouri into the Union.

These centennials will be held in various parts of the state.
